Thank you for your patience

We are currently experiencing a significant backlog in our New Business and Underwriting Department. During the normal course of business, we would pride ourselves on providing advisors with direct contact to our Underwriters to discuss and resolve issues on your applications. However, during this busy period, we ask for your patience and that you do not call our Underwriters directly so that they can work through your cases.

For any inquiries about the status of your applications, we strongly encourage you to use our Advisor Support site instead. If you have any questions or issues that need to be escalated, please stay connected with your local BMO Insurance Business Development Manager or Regional Vice President.

We understand that you'd like to settle as much of your new business as quickly as possible. So, our top priority remains focused on you and your clients.

We appreciate your patience during this very busy period.
